

Dale Louis Moore was born August 13, 1962, in East Riverton, NJ to the late Mary Eloise Marks and Louis Moore Jr. Dale was educated in the Cinnaminson Public School District. He played football for the historic Palmyra Pals organization, in the Garden State League on two championship teams. Dale continued playing football in High School and wrestled, achieving an appearance in the regional competition.

Dale joined the United States Navy, extending a family tradition of service. He graduated from the Great Lakes Recruit Training Center in Great Lakes Illinois. After graduation, he attended the Mess Specialist school in San Diego, California to study culinary arts. Upon graduation, Dale was stationed on the USS Long Beach CGN-9, the first Naval nuclear cruiser. Subsequently, Dale was stationed on the USS Mississippi CGN-40, earning the status of Chef for the Captain, and was sent to school at Johnson and Wales University in Rhode Island for further culinary arts training. Dale was considered a good shipmate by all crew members.

After the Navy, Dale continued to serve by way of cooking. He has blessed many restaurants throughout New Jersey, Philadelphia and State College, PA with his skills because as he would tell you, “he was the best that ever did it” and no one ever went hungry or without a plate when he was around. He enjoyed cooking for his family and friends.

Dale enjoyed, loved, adored, and couldn't go a day without his music. Music lived in his heart; a simple conversation could spark him to sing. He had the gift of gab, but with it all you laughed, or learned a lesson and those lessons are now our memories that Dale blessed us all with.

Dale is predeceased by his parents Mary Eloise Marks and Louis Moore Jr. Dale, sister Laurinda, sister in law Kelcia (Benjamin) Moore.
